

LAST EDITION.

IT IS A TIDAL WAVE.

Overwhelming Success of the Democratic Hosts of the Nation.

EAST AND WEST ARE SWEEPED.

No Doubt that Illinois and Indiana Stay in the Cleveland Column.

PERHAPS CALIFORNIA ALSO.

And There Are Strong Indications That Wisconsin Has Swung Around.

As it stands, according to the latest returns, the Electoral College presents 257 votes for Cleveland, 135 for Harrison and 35 for Weaver, thus insuring Cleveland's election by a solid majority.

An important change may come with the confirmation of an Associated Press report that the Republicans finally concede California to the Democrats, which will make Cleveland's vote 290 and Harrison's 143.

The Republican State Chairman has said with reference to this report that he merely conceded San Francisco, and held that the State as a whole would give a small Republican plurality.

Another change, which seems very probable, may yet turn Wisconsin and its twelve votes to the Democratic column.

New York State's plurality for Cleveland by the latest returns is about 46,731. There is a chance of its going higher.

All doubt concerning the position of Illinois and Indiana seems to be removed by news which will be found below:

The Electoral College.
State.	Cleveland.	Harrison.
ALABAMA.....	11	—
ARKANSAS.....	8	—
CALIFORNIA.....	13	—
COLORADO.....	3	—
CONNECTICUT.....	6	—
DELAWARE.....	3	—
FLORIDA.....	4	—
GEORGIA.....	13	—
IDAHO.....	3	—
ILLINOIS.....	24	—
INDIANA.....	13	—
IOWA.....	13	—
KANSAS.....	13	—
KENTUCKY.....	13	—
LOUISIANA.....	8	—
MAINE.....	8	—
MARYLAND.....	13	—
MASSACHUSETTS.....	13	—
MICHIGAN.....	7	—
MINNESOTA.....	7	—
MISSISSIPPI.....	13	—
MISSOURI.....	17	—
MONTANA.....	3	—
NEBRASKA.....	8	—
NEVADA.....	3	—
NEW HAMPSHIRE.....	4	—
NEW JERSEY.....	10	—
NEW YORK.....	36	—
NORTH CAROLINA.....	11	—
NORTH DAKOTA.....	3	—
OHIO.....	23	—
OREGON.....	3	—
PENNSYLVANIA.....	32	—
RHODE ISLAND.....	6	—
SOUTH CAROLINA.....	9	—
SOUTH DAKOTA.....	4	—
TENNESSEE.....	12	—
TEXAS.....	12	—
VERMONT.....	4	—
VIRGINIA.....	12	—
WASHINGTON.....	4	—
WEST VIRGINIA.....	6	—
WISCONSIN.....	12	—
WYOMING.....	3	—
TOTALS.....	257	135
Total number of votes.....	444	—
Necessary for a choice.....	223	—
Cleveland's majority.....	70	—

10,000 CLAIMED IN ILLINOIS.

Though Reports from Country May Reduce the Majority Somewhat.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The indications are that the vote of Illinois has gone for Cleveland and Stevenson by from 5,000 to 10,000 plurality and that the entire State Democratic ticket is elected.

Chicago and Cook County will give Cleveland and Stevenson and Algeo, the Democratic candidate for Governor, not less than 15,000 plurality. The country thus far has shown the Harrison vote to be less than in 1888, when Harrison had a plurality of 22,000 in the whole State.

As Harrison's plurality in the State outside of Cook County in 1888 was but 21,000, and the country returns thus far show a falling off of 1,000 in 220 precincts, it would seem that the result must be very close—probably not over 5,000 for Cleveland. The Democrats have probably elected both Congressmen-at-large, and have carried not less than ten of the twenty Congressional districts in the State.

Chairman Ben T. Cable, of the Western branch of the Democratic National Campaign Committee, claims Illinois for Grover Cleveland by at least 10,000 plurality, and the entire State ticket, the two Congressmen-at-large, and at least 12 of the 22 Congressmen in the State.

"We have captured both branches of the Illinois Legislature," he said, "and will do the redistricting of the State next winter."

5,000 MAJORITY IN INDIANA.

Incomplete Returns Indicate a Victory for Cleveland.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—Not more than half the counties in the State have been heard from, and these incompletely.

Indications are that Cleveland has carried the State by 5,000 to 8,000 plurality, and that the Democrats have State ticket and Legislature.

Returns from missing counties may possibly show a different result.

WEAVER HAS KANSAS BY 22,000.

Lawelling Elected Governor and Seven Joint Congressmen.

TOPEKA, Nov. 9.—Chairman Bridenthal, of the Democratic State Committee, says the Weaver electors will have a majority in the State of 22,000; that Lawelling for Governor will have 17,000 majority, and that the Democrats and Populists will get seven Congressmen.

DEMOCRATIC HOPE IN WISCONSIN

The State Almost Sure to Give Cleveland a Plurality.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 9.—It is almost certain that Cleveland has carried the State. Republican figures have been reduced to less than 1,000.

0.30 A. M.—The result in Wisconsin is still in doubt.

Henry C. Payne claims the State for Harrison and Grover Cleveland by about 1,000 or more—while Chairman Wall, of the Democratic Committee, sticks to his claim that Cleveland and Peck have 13,000 plurality.

Situation in West Virginia.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 9.—At midnight Chairman Dawson, of the Republican State Committee, claimed the election of the State Republican ticket and that the State had gone for Harrison.

Democratic claims quite the contrary. No accurate figures.

Democracy Sweeps North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 9.—It is likely that the Democrats have elected all their Congressmen except in the Second District, and have carried the State by 15,000 majority and retained control of the Legislature.

Tennessee for Cleveland.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—Out of forty Representatives and twelve Senators in East Tennessee the Republicans have elected one-half. The Republicans concede a Democratic victory in the State.

Bay State Republicans Weak.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Only about 12,000 of Harrison's plurality of 32,537 in 1888 in Massachusetts seems to be left to him in 1892. Gov. Russell is probably re-elected by 1,500. Most of the State ticket Republican.

Every Delaware County Claimed.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 9.—Chairman Hanly, of Democratic State Committee, claims that Democrats have carried every county in the State.

Virginia Democratic by 30,000.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 9.—Incomplete returns at Democratic Headquarters indicate the election of a solid Democratic delegation and a majority of 30,000.

A Silver Senator from Nevada.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 9.—It is conceded that Weaver carries Nevada by 1,500. Nevada's silver party, he elected to Congress. The result as to the Legislature is not certain, but it is generally believed the Silver party have a majority, which will insure the election of Stewart to the United States Senate.

Democratic Congressmen in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 9.—It is claimed that Harrison will have a plurality of 25,000 in Iowa and that the Republicans will elect nine or ten of the eleven Congressmen and one State ticket.

Democrats concede Harrison's plurality 10,000; Republicans claim 20,000.

Georgia Cuts a Great Figure.

ATLANTA, Nov. 9.—It is estimated that Georgia's complete majority for Cleveland will be not less than 95,000 or 100,000. The State Democratic fairly outdid itself. Congressman Tom Watson is elected.

On Kentucky's Biggest Vote.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9.—On the largest vote ever polled in Kentucky, Cleveland wins by 35,000 to 40,000.

Walker in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 9.—There was little opposition to the Democracy in South Carolina, and Cleveland gets at least 45,000 plurality.

10 Democrats, 16 Republicans.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—President Harrison and Cleveland have a majority in Pennsylvania of between 55,000 and 60,000 votes. The Republicans elect two Congressmen-at-large, and four others. The Democrats are sure of ten, and four are close. The Legislature will stand about as at present, the Republicans now having a majority of about fifty on joint ballot.

LUZON B. MORRIS ELECTED.

Cleveland Carries Connecticut by 5,000—Gains in the Legislature.

HARTFORD, Nov. 9.—The vote in this State, with one town missing, gives Cleveland 82,408; Harrison, 70,389; Weaver, 3,994; scattering, 1,005. Cleveland's plurality, 5,417. Four years ago it was 3,600.

The entire Democratic ticket is probably elected for Governor as Grover Cleveland, Dem., 52,260; Merwin, Rep., 75,402; Augur, Pro., 3,540; scattering, 113. Morris's majority (required by the Constitution), 1,115.

The State Senate is a tie, and the Republicans have about twenty majority in the House.

HARTFORD, Nov. 9.—The Republicans will contest the election of W. A. Randall, of the People's party to the Legislature. Randall defeated Speaker Allen W. Paige, Speaker of the Lower House, by 13 votes. They claim that a counter-changed the tickets.

MICHIGAN BADLY SPLIT UP.

Republicans Carry the State and Claim Nine Electoral Votes.

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—The returns from Michigan have not been for years as slow in coming in as they were last night, owing to the new system of voting.

The Republicans have undoubtedly elected the greater portion, if not their entire State ticket, by from eight to fifteen thousand plurality, except Ellis, for Attorney-general, and Newton, for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, who were on both the Democratic and People's tickets.

Michigan's electoral vote is badly split up. The Democrats claim that six of these votes will be cast for Cleveland, while the Republicans say they are certain of nine.

GOVERNORS ELECTED.

Twenty-four States Voted for Their Own Executives Yesterday.

In twenty-four States yesterday there was voting for Governor as well as for President. The candidates elected, according to latest returns, are as follows:

Colorado—Joseph H. Maupin, Dem.
Connecticut—Luzon B. Morris, Dem.
Delaware—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Florida—L. B. Leavelle, Pro-Rep.
Georgia—William E. Russell, Dem.
Illinois—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Indiana—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Kansas—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Kentucky—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Louisiana—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Maine—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Maryland—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Massachusetts—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Michigan—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Minnesota—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Mississippi—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Missouri—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Montana—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Nebraska—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Nevada—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
New Hampshire—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
New Jersey—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
New York—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
North Carolina—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
North Dakota—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Ohio—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Oklahoma—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Oregon—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Pennsylvania—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Rhode Island—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
South Carolina—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
South Dakota—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Tennessee—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Texas—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Vermont—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Virginia—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Washington—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
West Virginia—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Wisconsin—John P. Altgeld, Dem.
Wyoming—John P. Altgeld, Dem.

Wyoming Conceded to Weaver.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Nov. 9.—The Republican State committee concedes the election of the Weaver electors and the Democratic State ticket. The expected Republican majority in the southern tier of the counties has not materialized, and the northern counties are strongly Democratic. The Republicans have probably carried the Legislature, which will result in the defeat of Senator Warren.

Ohio Republican by 23,000.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—At midnight Chairman Dick of the Republican State Committee, claims that the Harrison electors in Ohio will have a plurality of from 25,000 to 30,000.

Weaver Carries Nebraska by 10,000.

OMAHA, Nov. 4.—Weaver has carried Nebraska by about 10,000. The Democrats have a slight majority in the Legislature on joint ballot.

Florida Gives Cleveland 23,000.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 9.—Florida will give Cleveland at least 23,000 majority. Cooper, in the Second Congressional District, will have about 11,000 majority.

North Dakota Republican by 1,000.

BISMARCK, N. Dak., Nov. 9.—Returns so far indicate that Harrison's electors have at least 1,000 majority. Harrison, Republican, is returned to Congress, and the joint ballot the Republicans will have the Legislature. The Republican State ticket has been carried by a small majority.

Weaver and Fusion in Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 9.—The indications are that Weaver has carried Colorado by less than 8,000, also that both fusion candidates for Congress have been elected. It is believed that the entire fusion State ticket is successful.

"My Maryland."

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9.—Cleveland's plurality in Maryland is estimated at 10,000 to 15,000, double that of four years ago.

Very Close in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 9.—Chairman Lewis Baker, of the Democratic State committee, is of the opinion that the Presidential candidates run well along with the State ticket, except as to the one fusion elector. The latter, he thinks, are most undoubtedly elected, and that the State ticket will not be 5,000 either way.

A Democrat Governor of Washington.

TACOMA, Nov. 9.—From returns now in it appears that Harrison has carried the State, but that Senator (Dem.) has been elected Governor, although the returns from remote districts are late in coming in.

Missouri Is in It.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—Cleveland's plurality in the State is estimated at 30,000. Stone, Dem., for Governor, wins by 14,000 to 15,000.

Louisiana Right in Line.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—Louisiana is Democratic by something like 60,000. All six Democratic Congressmen are elected.

Alabama Not in the Least Doubt.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 9.—Chris Marez's missionary visit to Alabama does not cut any figure in the State. The vote is for Cleveland by 20,000 and perhaps a little more.

2,084 for Cleveland in Richmond.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 9.—The total vote in Richmond County for President is as follows: Cleveland, 6,122; Harrison, 4,088; Bidwell, 820; Weaver, 77. The local Democratic ticket is elected by large majorities.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

House to Remain Democratic by About 69 Majority.

Probabilities of an Anti-Republican Senate Indicated.

Third Party May Hold the Balance of Power in the Upper Chamber.

The next National House of Representatives will be Democratic, though the phenomenal majority in the present Congress will be reduced to about 77 over the Republican and 69 over all parties combined. Eleven districts are yet in doubt.

The Republican gains are largest, comparatively, in Massachusetts, which has returned Henry Cabot Lodge, of the old party, but fame, though he was sternly rebuked in his own town of Nantuxet. The Republicans will gain four Congressmen in the State and another is claimed. The vote between McCall, Rep., and Andrew, Dem., is very close.

In New Hampshire ex-Senator Henry W. Butler is defeated, and in Kansas Jerry Simpson is beaten by Long, Republican.

"Tom" Watson is defeated in Georgia. The notorious Cannon is returned from Illinois.

Results as to certain State Legislatures which are to elect United States Senators make it appear that if the Senate is not transformed into an anti-Republican body it will be very close.

In this State a Democratic successor to Frank Hiseock will be chosen. In Nevada the silver party will probably elect a Senator to succeed William M. Stewart, Republican. In Wyoming the Weaver men are conceded to have the election, and in Washington a Third Party successor to Francis E. Warren, Republican.

Nebraska, which has also been carried by the Silver party supporting Weaver, will elect a Silver Senator to succeed A. S. Paddock, Republican.

The Michigan Legislature, though complete returns have not been received, is believed to have a Republican majority of eight on joint ballot and will probably be able to elect a Republican successor to Francis R. Stockbridge.

North Dakota and Connecticut will also elect Republican Senators to succeed Lyman R. Chase and Joseph H. Hawley, respectively. The Republican loss of five Senators from their present number of forty-seven, heretofore indicated, will leave them forty-two, while the addition of five from the Democratic and Third party strength of thirty-nine will give them a majority of two when they combine.

Of these thirty-nine, the Democrats will have the balance of power.

HOW REPUBLICANS TAKE IT.

Interesting Explanations of the Slump of Their Ticket.

Postmaster Van Cott Speaks Very Plainly—Other Opinions.

The Republican managers tried to be cheerful to-day, but their looks belied their efforts. The general sentiment among Republicans seems to be that the expected "big" vote has happened. Now that it is all over the cat is let out of the bag. One of the most outspoken among them was Gen. Charles E. Furlong, who said: "Harrison was not the choice of Republican voters. He was the nominee of the office-holders and delegates from Democratic States. It would have been different if Blaine had been the nominee."

Ex-Gov. Alonzo B. Cornell said: "It would take chapters to tell the causes of Republican defeat. I have not got time to enumerate."

William Brookfield, chairman of the Republican State Committee, said: "It was a shirkage of Republican votes."

Secretary Kenyon, of the Republican State Committee, said: "The cause of defeat? A lack of votes, that's all."

Ex-State Senator Vedder said: "It was the Nation Ballot law."

Congressman George West said: "It was a shirkage of Republican votes."

Ex-United States Senator Platt had not returned from Fargo, and ex-United States Senator Miller was away and would not talk. Collector Hendricks was close-mouthed as a clam. He sat behind his desk down at the custom-house buried in a mass of papers and documents, and looked grim and solemn.

"I haven't had time to read the papers this morning," he said, "and I don't know as I would have anything to say anyway. You know as much about it as I do."

"How about the vote in New York State?"

Wasn't that somewhat of a surprise to Republicans?

"Yes, it was rather unexpected, I must confess. But you must excuse me, I am too busy to talk any more on the subject."

"It looks to me," said Col. Joel B. Eariard, "as if they had too many votes for us, and I guess that was what was the matter."

"Explains it? Oh, that's something I can't possibly attempt to do."

Clad There Was No Trouble.

Marshal John Wesley Jacobus got down to his office late this morning and assumed a cheerful demeanor when his visitor called. He said:

"It looks to me as if the people of the country did not take as much stock in a protective tariff as a good many supposed. It did. It certainly shows a remarkable change in public sentiment, and I can't explain it."

"There is one thing, however, which gives me great satisfaction and relieves me of an immense load of anxiety, and that is that the election passed off in this city in so quiet and orderly a manner. We kept peace at the polls and there was no disorder or violence."

Postmaster Van Cott looked serene and cheerful.

"I am no chicken in politics," he said, "and these little set-backs never disturb me much. The falling off in the Republican vote was a great surprise to me, and especially the big Democratic majority in this city and Brooklyn. But I know the reason. In my opinion a good many things were done which ought not to have been done, but I am not going to say anything about that at present."

Van Cott Will Speak His Mind.

"I propose to speak frankly to the members of my party. It is a difficult thing to explain the slump all over the country, but I think that the people had made up their minds that they wanted a change."

"I know a good many Republicans who believe that the tariff has been pegged up too high. The McKinley bill was too sudden a jump, and it worked the same way as Cleveland's tariff measure. People don't understand the question thoroughly yet and extreme measures threaten them."

A Rap at Little John F.

"I don't believe, either, in grabbing up voters charged with illegal registration on election day. If there is any suspicious about their money will be returned. But soon as they have registered and been given a chance to give themselves."

DAN M'GINTY HAS A GUEST.

Down went McKinley with the G. O. P., And he's getting very wet, For they haven't found him yet, Dressed in his taxed suit of clothes.

HOW REPUBLICANS TAKE IT.

Interesting Explanations of the Slump of Their Ticket.

Postmaster Van Cott Speaks Very Plainly—Other Opinions.

The Republican managers tried to be cheerful to-day, but their looks belied their efforts. The general sentiment among Republicans seems to be that the expected "big" vote has happened. Now that it is all over the cat is let out of the bag. One of the most outspoken among them was Gen. Charles E. Furlong, who said: "Harrison was not the choice of Republican voters. He was the nominee of the office-holders and delegates from Democratic States. It would have been different if Blaine had been the nominee."

Ex-Gov. Alonzo B. Cornell said: "It would take chapters to tell the causes of Republican defeat. I have not got time to enumerate."

William Brookfield, chairman of the Republican State Committee, said: "It was a shirkage of Republican votes."

Secretary Kenyon, of the Republican State Committee, said: "The cause of defeat? A lack of votes, that's all."

Ex-State Senator Vedder said: "It was the Nation Ballot law."

Congressman George West said: "It was a shirkage of Republican votes."

Ex-United States Senator Platt had not returned from Fargo, and ex-United States Senator Miller was away and would not talk. Collector Hendricks was close-mouthed as a clam. He sat behind his desk down at the custom-house buried in a mass of papers and documents, and looked grim and solemn.

"I haven't had time to read the papers this morning," he said, "and I don't know as I would have anything to say anyway. You know as much about it as I do."

"How about the vote in New York State?"

Wasn't that somewhat of a surprise to Republicans?

"Yes, it was rather unexpected, I must confess. But you must excuse me, I am too busy to talk any more on the subject."

"It looks to me," said Col. Joel B. Eariard, "as if they had too many votes for us, and I guess that was what was the matter."

"Explains it? Oh, that's something I can't possibly attempt to do."

Clad There Was No Trouble.

Marshal John Wesley Jacobus got down to his office late this morning and assumed a cheerful demeanor when his visitor called. He said:

"It looks to me as if the people of the country did not take as much stock in a protective tariff as a good many supposed. It did. It certainly shows a remarkable change in public sentiment, and I can't explain it."

"There is one thing, however, which gives me great satisfaction and relieves me of an immense load of anxiety, and that is that the election passed off in this city in so quiet and orderly a manner. We kept peace at the polls and there was no disorder or violence."

Postmaster Van Cott looked serene and cheerful.

"I am no chicken in politics," he said, "and these little set-backs never disturb me much. The falling off in the Republican vote was a great surprise to me, and especially the big Democratic majority in this city and Brooklyn. But I know the reason. In my opinion a good many things were done which ought not to have been done, but I am not going to say anything about that at present."

Van Cott Will Speak His Mind.

"I propose to speak frankly to the members of my party. It is a difficult thing to explain the slump all over the country, but I think that the people had made up their minds that they wanted a change."

"I know a good many Republicans who believe that the tariff has been pegged up too high. The McKinley bill was too sudden a jump, and it worked the same way as Cleveland's tariff measure. People don't understand the question thoroughly yet and extreme measures threaten them."

A Rap at Little John F.

"I don't believe, either, in grabbing up voters charged with illegal registration on election day. If there is any suspicious about their money will be returned. But soon as they have registered and been given a chance to give themselves."

M'DONALD CALLED.

The Sergeant on the Stand in the Dailey Trial.

He Offers the Police Botter to Prove an Alibi.

Further Examination Adjourned to Allow Him Counsel.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Duke of Marlborough was found dead in bed at Blenheim Palace this morning.

On Saturday last the Duke was in London, and then appeared to be enjoying good health. All summer he has been working hard over a telephone scheme and other ventures in the city. He was the head of a new telephone company, which was to revolutionize the existing system, but this company joined the London and North Western Railway Co. in the summer of 1891.

When the Duke returned to England after his marriage he found Blenheim Palace in a most dilapidated condition. Even the locks on the doors and windows had to be replaced.

All the expenses of repairing were met by the business, who spent enormous sums in this way. All this is lost to her, as the place becomes the property of the Duke's son, who has hitherto been known as the Marquis of Blandford.

It is probable that when the new Duke takes up his residence at Blenheim Palace, he will be accompanied by his mother, with whom he has lived since her divorce. In this event the Duchess will not have even the satisfaction of living at the place she has gone to so much expense to improve.

It is believed that the city residence of the Duke, No. 14 Queen Anne's Gate, London, S. W., will also pass to his heir.

The motto borne by the Duke in his coat of arms is "Fiel Perio Desiderabo," which translated means, "Faithful, though Unfortunate."

HOW WAS HE HURT?

Man Found Unconscious on Sixth Avenue "L" Platform.

A man about forty years old, with sandy hair and mustache and dressed in dark clothes, was found unconscious and bleeding from a severe scalp wound on the elevated station at Sixth Avenue and Forty-second street early this morning.

He was taken to St. Louis Hospital.

Appreciate "The World's" Fight.

The following came to the editor of THE WORLD this morning:

PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The Democratic Association of the town of Deer Park and the village of Port Jeffers send congratulations to THE WORLD for the glorious victory gained.

Two Assignments To-Day.

Joseph W. Duray, of 612 First Avenue, made an assignment to-day for the benefit of creditors.

James F. Golden and John B. Golden, doing business under the name of Golden Brothers, 34 East Twentieth street, also assigned.

COACHMAN AND HORSE WERE FURNED.

KEYPORT, N. J., Nov. 9.—The carriage house of John B. Bette, proprietor of the Eastern Hotel, on Whitehall street, New York City, was burned last night. A horse valued at $500 and several carriages were lost. The coachman, James Bette, was probably fatally burned. The loss above insurance is about $2,000.